External Trade – Key points: June 2008

New Zealand's merchandise exports increased 14.6 percent for the year ended June 2008, and were valued at $40.0 billion. The largest increases in export values were in dairy (up 35.6 percent), and mineral fuel (up 376 percent). High world commodity prices for some key New Zealand exports have helped dampen the effects of the strong New Zealand dollar. The total value of New Zealand's imports for the year ended June 2008 was $44.5 billion, up from $41.2 billion in the June 2007 year. The largest increases in import values were in mineral fuels (up 21.4 percent), machinery (up 12.5 percent) and vehicles (up 9.8 percent).

Exports

- Australia continued to be New Zealand's principal export market, worth $9.2 billion in the year ended June 2008. Exports to Australia rose by 27.4 percent during the year. The United States and Japan were New Zealand's second and third-largest export markets, receiving $4.0 billion and $3.4 billion, respectively. New Zealand's fourth-largest export destination was China, where exports were worth $2.1 billion in the year ended June 2008.
- Exports to APEC economies accounted for 68.8 percent of New Zealand's total exports and were worth $27.6 billion in the year ending June 2008. The European Union accounted for $5.7 billion or 14.2 percent of total exports.
- Dairy products were New Zealand's largest export earner in the June 2008 year, accounting for 22 percent of total merchandise exports and valued at $8.8 billion. Meat and mineral fuels were our two next-largest export products, accounting for 11.7 and 6.6 percent of total exports, respectively. Wood (5.0 percent), machinery (4.8 percent), aluminium (3.6 percent) and fruit (3.4 percent) were also key components of New Zealand's goods export portfolio in the year ended June 2008.

Imports

- Australia remained New Zealand's largest source of merchandise imports in the year ended June 2008, with imports valued at $8.7 billion accounting for 19.5 percent of total imports. Imports from Australia increased 0.1 percent from the June 2007 year. Imports from China increased by 10.4 percent in this same period and were valued at $5.2 billion. Other major sources of imports for New Zealand were the United States, Japan and Singapore, which respectively accounted for 9.3, 9.1 and 5.1 percent of total imports.
- Imports from APEC economies were valued at $32.9 billion and accounted for 74.0 percent of total imports in the year ended June 2008. Imports from the European Union were valued at $7.2 billion for the June 2008 year, and accounted for 16.9 percent of total imports.
- Fuels and oils were New Zealand's most valuable imported product in the year ended June 2008, worth $7.1 billion and accounting for 16 percent of total imports. Other significant imports included machinery ($5.9 billion), motor vehicles ($5.3 billion) and electrical machinery ($3.8 billion).

Services

- In the year ended June 2008, New Zealand's service exports were worth $12.7 billion, up $105 million from the June 2007 year. New Zealand imported services to the value of $12.3 billion in the year ended June 2008, up $273 million from the June 2007 year.
- Overseas visitor arrivals numbered 2.48 million in the year ended June 2008. This was a 0.9 percent increase from the June 2007 year. The most important sources of visitors to New Zealand in the year ended June 2008 were Australia, the United Kingdom, the United States, China and Japan. China recently overtook Japan to be our fifth-largest source of visitors.

General issues

The commodity tables show the principal markets for New Zealand's exports (and some imports) of several product groups, including agriculture, non-agriculture, dairy, meat, fruit and vegetables, forestry, machinery, and textiles, clothing and footwear. In addition, the economic groupings of APEC, OECD, EU, ASEAN, GCC, NAFTA and the PIF have been added to the commodity tables to give more information. These, and the geographic country aggregations that make up the geographic regions used in the text, are defined in the appendices at the end of this publication. Other definitions, for example the services definitions, are those used by Statistics New Zealand, based on standard International Monetary Fund criteria. A summary of these also appears at the end of this publication.

Re-exports

Re-exports record goods brought into New Zealand and exported without a 'substantial transformation'. The 50 percent value added is used as a yardstick to measure 'substantial transformation'; above that level, the goods are classified as domestic exports. Trans-shipment goods are not included. Goods that are re-exported will have previously figured in some form in the import statistics.

Appendix 6: Standard definitions and notes

Agricultural exports	This uses the standard World Trade Organization (WTO) definition for agriculture. Products include HS codes 1–24 inclusive, with the exception of HS 03 and some of HS 16 (processed fish). It also includes casein, hides and skins, and raw wool.
cif	Cost, insurance, freight – the market value (or fob equivalent) of the imported goods plus the cost of freight and insurance from the source to destination.
Confidential classifications	Traders may ask Statistics New Zealand, for commercial reasons, to suppress details of their imports or exports for up to 24 months. A value for all ‘confidential’ trade now appears under catch-all HS 98. Through to April 2002, confidential was included in HS 9707, but was subsequently placed in HS 98. Examples of exports currently classified as confidential include methanol, coal, wood pulp, clay, mushrooms, and some iron and steel products. A full list of the goods classified under this heading is available on the Statistics NZ website (www.stats.govt.nz). The value of confidential trade is considerable – exports of $838 million and imports of $317 million for the June 2008 year.
fob	Free on board – the value of the goods delivered to the port of export and loaded onto a vessel for transportation out of the country of origin. Used for exported goods.
Government services nie	These comprise transactions of central government, the central bank and local government. Both New Zealand government and foreign government transactions are recorded.
Insurance	Insurance and re-insurance of all types, including freight insurance. The values recorded alongside insurance measure the value of insurance services provided by an economy to non-residents (the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade (MFAT) ‘exports’ series or, in Balance of Payments (BoP) terms, the credit item) and the value of insurance services purchased by residents from non-residents’ insurers (the MFAT ‘imports’ series, or BoP debits item). Insurance services is measured by multiplying the total amount of insurance premiums exported or imported by the five-year average domestic service charge ratio. The latter is the ratio of the domestic insurance service charge to total domestic premiums when the service charge is calculated as premiums minus claims.
Merchandise goods	Tangible, moveable goods crossing the customs frontier.
nes	Not elsewhere specified
nie	Not included elsewhere
Non-agricultural exports	This uses the standard WTO definition. Non-agricultural exports comprise all other exports not included in agricultural exports.
Non-merchandise goods	Goods returned after repair or modification in New Zealand; goods on short-term loan or lease; and service transactions, eg computer data tapes and drawings.
Other	This item covers those international service transactions not covered under the travel, transportation, insurance or government services nie items. They include communication services, construction services, financial services, computer and information services, royalties and licence fees, personal, cultural and recreational services, and other business services. Other business services includes merchanting, and other business, technical and professional services.

Re-exports	This data records goods brought into New Zealand and exported without a ‘substantial transformation’. Although not a hard and fast rule, 50 percent value added is used as a yardstick to measure ‘substantial transformation’; above that level, the goods are classified as domestic exports. Transshipment goods are not included. Goods that are re-exported will have previously figured in some form in the import statistics. Re-exports are included in the general tables of this publication.
Services	Items that are generally intangible or not physically moveable (eg export education and tourism).
Transportation	Transportation measures the value of transactions in transportation services between residents of different economies. Transportation services are those services provided through carriers (such as ships and aircraft) by their operators, and the goods and services consumed by carriers in the course of their operations. By international convention, exports are foreigners carried by a New Zealand carrier, either here or overseas. Imports are New Zealanders carried by a foreign carrier. New Zealanders carried by a domestic carrier (either here or overseas) constitute a domestic transaction and are not part of international trade. The types of services provided through carriers include the carriage of freight (exports and imports) and passengers. Other transportation services covered include the charter of carriers, and airport and harbour fees. Goods consumed by carriers in the course of their operations, including bunkering and provisioning, are recorded under merchandise goods.
Travel	Travel covers the goods and services acquired from an economy by individuals defined as travellers during their stay in that economy. The international carriage of travellers is not included here but is classified as transportation.
vfd	Value for duty – the market value of imported goods as used for Customs’ valuation purposes for tariff assessment in New Zealand.
Additional notes	The merchandise trade statistics are incompatible with the services data. Services data is collected and collated by Statistics NZ in line with the principles set by the IMF for BoP data. These principles also have methodology for the collation and presentation of goods data that differs from that of the merchandise goods data used above. The key point is that one should not add the merchandise trade figures to services in order to obtain an overview of ‘goods and services trade’. Instead, readers are referred to the full BoP series, which adjust merchandise goods values according to the principles set down by the IMF. In particular, the value of imported goods is adjusted to a FOB-equivalent basis in BoP statistics, but not in merchandise trade series. Further information on BoP concepts and methods is available from Statistics NZ.
